WHAT IS THE HISTORY BLOG?

hiStory is an easy-to-handle weblog area for the exchange of experiences among senior citizens. It is about stories and tales of personally experienced history in the 20th and beginning 21st century by seniors of different countries all over Europe.

YOU DON'T REMEMBER ANYTHING TO TELL?

Don't mind about telling exciting, extraordinary, unpublished stories or big historical events. We would simply like to invite you to tell "little pieces of history you have encountered in your daily life", for example a memory of something important for you, a moving experience, a special event or encounter that you would like to share with other people ...

WEBWHAT? WEBLOG? WHAT IS A BLOG?

A Blog is a type of web site that is usually arranged in chronological order from the most recent 'post' (or entry) at the top of the main page to the older entries towards the bottom. Many blogs provide a commentary or news on a particular subject. Others function as more personal online diaries.

WHY SHOULD YOU PARTICIPATE?

The hiStory project is co-funded by the European Commission with the aim of building up a Europe-wide network of senior citizens, promoting active citizenship in terms of awareness of historical contexts, as well as intercultural exchange, transgenerational dialogue and lifelong learning through personally experienced history.

Write your story in the hiStory blog!
... read and comment the stories of other citizens.

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

hiStory is a project co-funded by the European Commission (DG Education and Culture) that aims to provide a new service for senior citizens including the following activities:

- to develop a self-sustaining weblog area for European senior citizens with an increasing number of stories and reports about their personally experienced history in the 20th and beginning 21st century, classified by multiple categories (language, country, theme), and the potential of integrating audio and video files.
- to establish this weblog area as an easy-to-handle peer-to-peer learning platform for the exchange of experiences among senior citizens, fostering communication, social inclusion and e-inclusion of seniors.
- to build up a Europe-wide network of senior citizens, promoting active citizenship in terms of awareness of historical contexts, as well as intercultural exchange and lifelong learning through personally experienced history.
